About This Collection

Here's a thinking process:

1. Analyze the Request:

- Input: A list of scrambled site captions (all in Russian, about "Серебряный волк" / "Silver Wolf" series, various seasons, episodes, posters, online viewing).

- Task: Write a short, enticing description (60-90 words) for an adult photo gallery... Wait, let me re-read carefully.

- Actually, the prompt says: "You write a short, enticing description (60-90 words) for an adult photo gallery based on the scrambled site captions provided." But then it gives captions about a TV series "Серебрывый волк" (Silver Wolf), which is a TV series, not an adult photo gallery. And it says "Turn them into one coherent, engaging paragraph that teases the models, setting and action without listing captions mechanically." Then it has constraints about AI-flag words, no markdown, etc.

- Wait, there's a conflict: "for an adult photo gallery based on the scrambled site captions provided" but the captions are about a TV series. And then: "The gallery title is: "rlacowls5". Write the entire description in the same language as the input, regardless of the captions language."

" This might be a template or a test, but the actual captions are about a TV series. The "adult photo gallery" part might be a generic instruction that doesn't match the actual captions. Actually, looking at the captions, they're all about "Серебряный волк" (Silver Wolf) series. I should focus on the actual task: create a description based on the captions, but the instructions mention "teases the models, setting and action" which fits an adult gallery, but the captions are about a TV series. The prompt might be mixing two things, or I need to adapt. This is confusing.

- Let me read carefully: "You write a short, enticing description (60-90 words) for an adult photo gallery based on the scrambled site captions provided. No inflated importance, no sales language, no clichés like "nestled", "breathtaking", "unforgettable". No emojis, no curly quotes, no markdown, no bold text. Never use em or en dashes; split the sentence or use a comma. Never use AI-flag words: delve, tapestry, vibrant, testament, landscape, showcase, crucial, pivotal, additionally, moreover, furthermore, "it is important to note", "serves as", "boasts". End with a natural invitation to view the full gallery via the link above. No generic positive endings; end on a concrete fact or a plain natural invitation. Turn them into one coherent, engaging paragraph that teases the models, setting and action without listing captions mechanically. Answer in the same language as the input. Naturally reuse at least 20% of the key words from the captions (names, nicknames, distinctive terms), translating the rest as needed. Plain text only, no markdown, no lists, no quotes. Use "to" instead of "in order to"; use "because" instead of "due to the fact that". Never use "not only X but Y" constructions, "At its core", or forced groups of exactly three items. Vary sentence length naturally, state things directly, and keep every claim supported by the provided captions.

- The gallery title is: "rlacowls5". Write the entire description in the same language as the input, regardless of the captions language."

- Input language is Russian (the captions are Russian). " Input language is Russian. So I need to write the description in Russian.

- But the description is for an "adult photo gallery" based on captions about a TV series. This is a mismatch. Maybe I need to reinterpret the captions as if they were for an adult gallery, or perhaps the "adult photo gallery" part is a fixed prompt template that doesn't apply, and I should just describe the content from the captions in an engaging way, but in Russian, following all the constraints.

- Let me re-read the user's message carefully. " Then gives captions. Then has all the constraints. Then says "The gallery title is: "rlacowls5".
